

Deere & Company North American Marketing & Sales Center Olathe, Kansas

John Deere & Company's new 126,150 s.f. marketing and sales center houses more than 400 marketing professionals who provide support and service to John Deere sales branches and agricultural dealerships in North America. Deere & Company made this move from an older, two-building facility in an effort to consolidate the company's marketing efforts and support future growth.

The new single-building facility features expanded meeting and training rooms, a fitness center, cafeteria, and an open-office atmosphere to facilitate collaboration among employees.

This state-of-the-art facility is designed to meet the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold level certification guidelines.

